Request for Reproduction of Archival Materials

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted materials.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study scholarship or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

As part of the Archive's procedures, researchers are asked to fill out a Registration Form before receiving duplicated materials.

- Archives staff will be solely responsible for creating reproductions of materials.
- Patrons desiring to duplicate materials from the Archive Collections must complete, sign and return this form.
- The Archive reserves the right to make decisions about what materials can be photocopied, photographed, digitized, or otherwise duplicated based on the condition of materials, access restrictions, and copyright restrictions.
- In certain cases, written permission of the copyright holder may be required before the department will authorize reproduction.
- Researchers must complete a Notification of Intent to Quote or Publish form before quoting from or publishing archival materials. Publish is here used to mean presentation in whole or in part in seminar or term papers, theses or dissertations, journal articles, monographs, books, digital forms, photographs, images, films, videos, broadcasts, dramatic presentations, transcriptions, or any other form prepared for a limited or general public.
- In the case of original footage duplication where the copyright is owned by Baldwin County Department of Archives and History, researchers are asked to sign a Footage

Licensing Agreement form. If the copyright is owned by a third party, permission must be granted before any duplication of material, and it is the researcher's responsibility to obtain permission. The researcher indemnifies Baldwin County Commission, Baldwin County Department of Archives and History and any of its agents from any potential lawsuits regarding footage owned by third parties.

- Publication and/or broadcast can take place only under the provisions of the fair-use doctrine in the U.S. Copyright Law (as amended) or by obtaining permission of the copyright holder, which in some instances may be Baldwin County Department of Archives and History.
- Published and/or broadcast work created using archival special collections material must include a citation. Sample citation: [Name of the Collection], Baldwin County Department of Archives and history of special collections.
