The Baldwin County Commission is requesting public input on the development of a new county wide strategic plan. This plan will be the guiding document for the Baldwin County Commission and will establish goals and milestones for the county.

The two public forums will be facilitated by Managing Results, LLC., the firm selected to help guide the county through this important process.

Commissioners want to encourage the public to participate in one or both forums:

“The purpose of these public forums is to provide the opportunity for Baldwin County citizens to share their input for a new strategic plan which will help shape the future of the county.”
